

HUMANITY MATTERS

re-enchanting homo sapiens

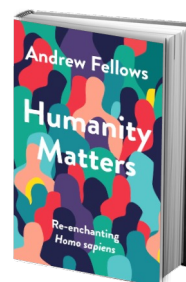

We live in an age of disenchantment. Technology overtakes us, identities become fragmented, and we quietly doubt our own worth. Andrew Fellows argues that our crisis is not just moral or technological but anthropological. Drawing on philosophy, film and contemporary culture, he exposes the limits of today's accounts of personhood and recovers a richer, older version. Andrew invites us to rediscover a robust Biblical humanism before we engineer ourselves out of our own humanity.

06:30 first talk
08:00 breakfast
09:00 second talk
10:30 tea
11:00 third talk
12:30 discussion lunch

Andrew Fellows lived and worked at the English branch of L'Abri Fellowship for over 20 years; for 5 years Andrew was also the chairman of L'Abri International. Now based in Cambridge, he is the minister of St Thomas' alongside his work of speaking and writing. He has a special interest in reaching sceptics and encouraging followers of Christ to connect the whole gospel to the whole world. Andrew is married to Helen; they have 4 children and 7 grandchildren.

TO BOOK (RSVP ESSENTIAL!)

 contact@labri.za.org  073 867 6864

COST

R200 (includes breakfast, tea & lunch)

TO PAY: (use your name as ref)

BANK: FNB
NAME: L'ABRI SA
ACCOUNT: 62192802835

L'Abri Fellowship was founded over 70 years ago by Francis & Edith Schaeffer to provide an environment where Christians and non-Christians can seek answers to questions about God, life and reality. Following in this tradition, a L'Abri Conference is an opportunity to engage our hearts and minds on issues that matter, with good opportunity for questions and discussion. Participate in this mini-conference expecting to be challenged, enriched and encouraged.