

L'ABRI LECTURE

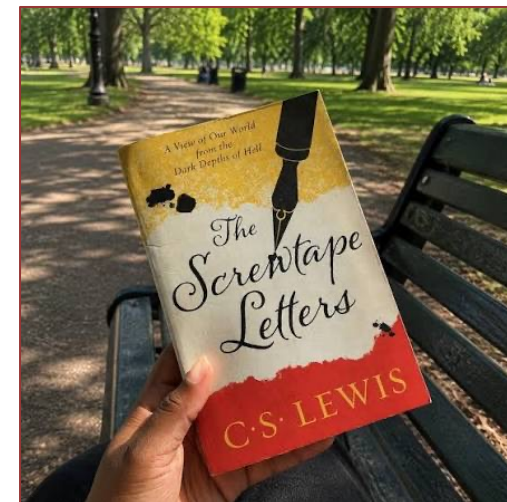

by Andrew Fellows

at L'ABRI 569 LUKAS ST.
LUKASRAND
PRETORIA

Wed 21 OCTOBER
19:00 – 21:00

EAVESDROPPING ON HELL: Inside temptation with the Screwtape Letters

C.S. Lewis' classic "The Screwtape Letters" has been enjoyed by millions of readers with its witty satirical portrayal of a senior demon advising his novice. It turns out that the strategy of the underworld isn't to convince us to choose hell, but simply to unravel our souls from heaven. Instead of tempting humans into spectacular wickedness, Screwtape pursues the quiet work of weakening their faith. How would you know whether Screwtape is winning in your life?

Andrew Fellows lived and worked at L'Abri Fellowship for over 20 years. He is now the minister of St Thomas' in Cambridge, alongside his work of speaking and writing. Much of his work is devoted to helping us make sense of ourselves and the age we live in. Andrew is married to Helen and they have 4 children and 7 grandchildren.

L'Abri Fellowship was founded over 70 years ago by Francis & Edith Schaeffer to provide an environment where both Christians and non-Christians can seek answers to questions about God, life and reality. Today, L'Abri has works in nine countries, including South Africa.

RSVP ESSENTIAL!

✉ contact@labri.za.org 📞 073 867 6864

Dialogue community

